ANNUAL REPORT 2021

CFOV
Community Foundation for the Ohio Valley
What’s Inside?

The following pages celebrate the great things made possible through CFOV’s funds, donors and friends in philanthropy. We invite you to explore the stories and join us in appreciating all that makes the Ohio Valley a special place to live, work, play and grow!
Impact is difficult to define at a community foundation. With 260 different funds, each with a different direction, the grants we make are often small and scattered. But many small grants and scholarships, when made with thought and care, can make a big difference in a community.

When I look back on the past year, it is impossible to not recognize the impact we made during COVID. Our local nonprofit organizations were struggling with more people to serve and less dollars to serve them with. CFOV was able to make an impact by providing much needed support to these organizations. These were grants that helped feed families, supported tutoring children, provided healthcare, purchased PPE for childcare centers, and showed appreciation for first responders. Those grants also helped with general support to arts and recreation programs that were struggling to survive the last year. The impact of these grants as a whole was great and would not have been possible without the donations of many individuals.

Impactful grants come in all sizes, as you will read in the pages ahead. One of my favorites from this year came from Powhatan Point, Ohio, where our Women’s Giving Circle provided support to the municipal park district to assist young women with costs associated with training to become lifeguards at the local pool. This small grant provided many benefits: the obvious support to young women who needed summer jobs, but also the local community that benefitted from having a pool that was staffed in a time when employees were hard to come by. Add to that the pride and confidence that these young women were gifted through this process and you’ve got a home run of a grant, in my opinion.

I define impact for CFOV as leaving our part of the world better because we were there. If our grants can accomplish that, we are definitely moving the needle in the right direction. We invite you to join us in our work by establishing a fund of your own or supporting our Community Impact Grant program. We are continuously appreciative of the donors who believe in our leadership and help us to meet the changing needs of the region.

Susie Nelson
Executive Director
Here’s what the president of the Park District shared:

This grant was a huge help to our pool operations! The 2020 season was a challenge for our seven lifeguards as the pandemic was unfolding. The 2021 season saw great improvements as our lifeguard team grew to 13, ten of which were female. It was important for us to provide opportunities for young women in our community who have expressed interest in employment but have not had the financial resources to obtain certification or other needed supplies. Staffing issues in the past had resulted in a shorter pool season because we didn’t have the staff to work.

The grant from the Women’s Giving Circle made it possible to have nine female lifeguards trained and certified for the first time, with a tenth guard who had her certification renewed.

Certification is provided through the American Red Cross and valid for two years. This type of credential is a huge benefit to them and the pool patrons, who can enjoy the pool and splash pad knowing qualified guards are on duty. Uniforms, including polarized sunglasses, were also able to be purchased and helped increase visibility of guards.

In addition to the lifesaving elements of the job, other relevant job skills were able to be applied in a real-world setting. For many, a job at the pool serves as the foundation of a young person’s employment experience. Communication, scheduling, personal responsibility, customer service and problem-solving skills are put to the test in this role. We are proud to offer a positive and meaningful environment for our employees to develop skills of all types that will follow them forever.

The Women’s Giving Circle seeks to improve the lives of women and girls through grantmaking — this was a perfect match!

Members of the park district noticed it was often difficult for young women who aspired to be lifeguards at Powhatan’s pool to afford the costs associated getting started. This barrier kept young women from pursuing an employment opportunity that would build skills for work and life.
When we think about the people in our lives who mean the most, we probably don’t have to reach too far into the family tree to find an example. It is often the influence of family that inspires significant opportunities to make an impact—long after those loved ones are gone. Roy Meredith always held his grandmother’s influence close and knew one day he’d be able to make a big thing happen!

Roy created the Lloyd Shirl & Esta Mae Taggart Scholarship in tribute to the role they played in his life. Born in 1899, Esta Mae and Lloyd each had limited schooling and pursuing higher education was not practical given societal and cultural norms of that era. Lloyd was an accomplished blacksmith, skilled worker and dedicated family man. Esta Mae always wondered what she could have accomplished had she been able to finish school and eventually earn a college degree. As doting grandparents, Esta Mae and Lloyd instilled values of hard work, dedication and resilience to their grandson, who often worked alongside them on the family farm. Those values are honored through this scholarship fund that will extend support to graduating seniors of Tyler Consolidated High School who seek to better themselves through higher education.

It was Roy’s wish to someday be able to honor his grandparents in a way that would make the dreams they had more possible for others. Roy’s wife, Carol Ann, shared in this motivation to establish a fund that would have the power to support education. With time, opportunity and careful planning, this wish came true and will continue to come true on an annual basis for generations to come!

Grantmaking often means learning about problems... and solutions. The pandemic, a problem of its own, caused additional issues that left many residents in new or worsening situations of need. It became clear to us and our partners throughout the community that hunger was a prevailing concern. Although the hunger issue was being addressed throughout the Ohio Valley and being supported through CFOV Emergency Impact Grants, we took special notice of the efforts happening in Marshall County, where food access is particularly poor. Existing limited food access, decreasing and/or loss of income combined with changes in educational and social environments meant hunger was on the rise.

Gratefully, multiple organizations in Marshall County engage in efforts to address hunger. Those organizations rallied to create adjustments to existing programs to keep those in the community fed and supported. Several of those enhanced programs, which benefited all ages, were supported by CFOV grants. Backpack programs continued, seniors received meal deliveries in their homes, food pantries were kept stocked and operational elements of these important organizations were protected. These impressive efforts truly demonstrated a desire to improve a sensitive situation.

The hunger issue will be with us beyond the pandemic, but we are heartened to know our area has responsive organizations ready to tackle it... one meal at a time.

Grantees:
Kathy’s House Foundation/Noah’s Pantry Project $2,000
Moundsville Middle School $6,000
Salvation Army of Moundsville $3,000
Marshall County FRN $2,500
Simpson United Methodist Church/Shepherd’s Pantry $5,000
Family Service $6,800

$25,300 TOTAL OVER 10 MONTHS

What: Over $25,000 in grants from CFOV funds
Where: Throughout the county – schools, pantries, meals to homes for seniors, backpack programs
When: A ten-month period, April 2020 – February 2021
Why: The pandemic placed additional strain on a challenge being faced by many in Marshall County – hunger
YOU are the piece that makes the difference!

CFOV is the piece that connects everything!
Here’s what the Lighthouse Child Advocacy Center staff shared:

The grant from the CFOV Emergency Impact fund provided six months of rent for our Child Advocacy Center. This freed up state grant and unrestricted funds to meet the emergency and safety needs of child abuse victims and their non-offending caregivers during the unpredictable global COVID-19 pandemic.

Other than staff salaries and benefits, rent has always been our largest monthly operational expense. After receiving these emergency funds, we realized what a huge relief it was to our budget to have the extra financial support. This led us to search for a home of our own for our Child Advocacy Center.

In February 2021, we were able to purchase a location of our own. Donors, including the Wetzel County Commission and the Tyler County Commission, made this possible. Renovations were completed to make this space accessible, secure and child-friendly to meet the needs of those serve. We recently moved without any disruption in services. Our new space has been getting rave reviews from our partners and most importantly, the children we serve. If it had not been for the CFOV Emergency Impact Fund, I believe we would still be in our small co-located space paying a high price for rent every month. Our monthly operational expenses have decreased, which has increased the sustainability of our organization.
Laughlin Chapel has been serving the children and youth of Wheeling’s urban core for over a century! It is somewhat fitting that a lifetime event like COVID-19 would bring an opportunity for the Chapel team to fulfill a brand-new need in a BIG way!

Afterschool programming and summer day camps are the programs most associated with the Chapel. The organization knows how to create environments to serve children and nurture development - and does so free of charge, while also providing transportation and meals!

When the school schedule shifted to no in-person learning on Wednesdays, many families in the area were left scrambling to find care for their children. The Chapel recognized this resource gap and got to work developing a school-day program, complementing the existing afterschool program, that would relieve worried families seeking care and provide opportunities for learning and enrichment.

An Emergency Impact Fund grant from CFOV was used to support personnel, activities and supplies over the course of the program, which operated for 14 Wednesdays! Participants worked on assignments and received support from Chapel staff, including specific support in building literacy skills. In addition to the Chapel-based structure, community partnerships created several experiences that were fun, educational and perfect for active learners!

The Wednesday program allowed families to take a collective sigh of relief and feel good knowing a community champion was in their corner.
What's in a name? A name is something that can mean a lot or nothing at all. In the case of Helping Hands of Toronto, Ohio, the organization’s name leaves no question as to the type of support the group seeks to deliver. Helping Hands operates a food pantry that provides food and other essential goods to those in need in Toronto and the surrounding area. The organization received a grant from CFOV’s Emergency Impact Fund to help stretch resources needed to provide Blessing Bags, a part of existing holiday food distributions.

Blessing Bags were provided to each student in the Toronto City School District the day before winter break – 923 to be exact! Lots of helping hands joined to fill and distribute the bags, including students and existing pantry volunteers. Not only did the bags contain healthy snacks for each day school was not in session, but the contents made it a little easier for families to keep bellies full when meals typically provided through school were not available. Child food insecurity was an issue in Jefferson County prior to COVID and was recorded at 22.8% in 2019. As expected, the influence of COVID has resulted in a significant increase in child food insecurity, with a projected 2020 rate of 28.3%. The Blessing Bags served an important purpose and offered welcomed reassurance to families.

The Brooke Hancock Family Resource Network works to identify community issues and create solutions through grassroots channels and collaborations. The FRN’s Holiday Helpers project is a great example of that mission coming to life in a meaningful way.

The FRN recognized teens between the ages of 13-18 are often excluded from other programs intended to provide holiday gifts for families and children in need. Toys, clothing and gadgets for the younger set are often a little easier to gather, leaving teens with more essentials. Those essentials are important, but don’t exactly check the “holiday magic” box. That’s when Holiday Helpers changed things...

Through a collaboration with the Weirton Salvation Army that included an application process, holiday wishes were granted for 25 teens throughout the community. A grant from CFOV’s Emergency Impact Fund was combined with other community sources, and participating teens were able to shop to fulfill holiday wishes. In addition to the wish list items, many of the teens opted to also choose special gifts for younger siblings and even a package or two of socks. This program had a tremendous impact and alleviated a worry felt by many parents and caregivers – how to make the holidays happen during very challenging times.

The FRN shared a touching story about a Follansbee teen who had the same item on his wish list for years, but his family was not able to provide it or any other gifts. Holiday Helpers was able to make his wish come true and share holiday magic throughout the community.
Here’s what library staff shared:

The Brooke County Public Libraries were able to purchase seven mobile hotspot devices to share with patrons. We were able to get them up and running for patron use starting in April 2021. April-June, we have had at least 41 checkouts, with a total 3,894.83 GB in usage.

We have had patrons indicate in our survey they have either checked it out for personal, professional, or educational needs. Most responses either indicate they don’t have satisfactory connection at home and/or no connection at home. Most have indicated that multiple devices would be connected.
